

Splendour of MALAY TEXTILES

When asked what are Malay textiles the first thing that comes to one's mind is songket and batik. Malay textiles, however, encompasses a much broader scope of textile categories. For a fuller understanding of the entire genre of Malay textiles, John Ang will share about all 12 categories of Malay textiles. Besides this he will also identify the various subcategories and discuss how to differentiate them from each other.

Born in Chicago, USA, John Ang who is of Singapore descent, received his M.A. in Asian Art History from University of Michigan. He has worked in Tokyo as an art journalist, and in Taipei establishing a gallery specializing in Asian arts and antiquities.

As gallery director, his articles on Asian art have appeared in many established art magazines. John has also been invited to share his extensive knowledge of Asian art internationally.

Malay textiles are his passion and research focus. In order to devote his time to collecting and deepening his research, he moved to Malaysia in 2018.
